

FOREXPO, THE SOUTHERN EUROPEAN FORESTRY TRADE FAIR

Among the European forestry trade fairs, FOREXPO is the leader in all southern Europe, dedicated to the professionals of the forest-wood industry, in the heart of the biggest cultivated forest in Europe, close to the Iberian Peninsula

NEWS OF THE SITE

We were supposed to meet together on this beautiful site of 70 ha, in Mimizan, in the heart of the Landes forest. Unfortunately, events have decided differently.

Currently, exhibitors and visitors should invest the site that became an ephemeral village for the occasion, in which all the amenities would have been set up (Wi-Fi, restaurants, refreshment stalls...). However, we must be patient, this will happen in just about a year's time.

We took advantage of these quieter past few months to fill the ditches between the traffic paths and the stand areas to allow easy access for both equipment and public.

Throughout this year, we will also work on the organization of new material demonstrations, under real conditions, because these animations truly constitute the FOREXPO DNA.

We will use this extra time to perfect other facilities on the site and refine few organizational details, in order to welcome you always under the best conditions.

"THANK YOU!"

We are delighted to see that you already remain faithful to FOREXPO by maintaining, for most of you, your registration for 2021. We would like to thank you again for your support.
